Gerry's News and Music in High Point had it, and shopper Karen Tate wanted it: American Idol winner Fantasia Barrino's CD single.

"OK, I had my name down for one of those," Tate said walking into the East Lexington Avenue store Tuesday morning. She put her name on a "hold" list last week for the CD.

Across the Triad on Tuesday, sales were brisk as fans poured into retail outlets to snap up Barrino's debut CD featuring "I Believe," "Chain of Fools" and "Summertime."

Gail Favors grabbed five CDs and clutched them under her arms as she walked swiftly to secure a place in line.

"I started watching it at the weeding-out process and I enjoyed every session," Favors said. "She has a sweet personality. I just pray she keeps her temple clean."
